

2024 Local Employment Dynamics (LED) Partnership Virtual Workshop Training Day “Multidimensional Perspectives of the Labor Market”

May 16

12pm – 5pm EDT

For the 2024 LED Partnership Workshop, we are taking a new approach to training. This year, we are calling for you to submit real problems, topics, questions, or work you would like to see hands on. With the availability of prior years’ training recordings on our website, we want to bring your work and questions to the front of the training experience. We will have the people behind the products available to work on your submitted questions during the training, providing a more hands on experience.

- Are you stumped on a particular aspect of a tool?
- Is there a scenario that you are struggling to work through?
- Do you want to dive deeper but are unsure where to start?
- Have you found a way to put information together that you would like to share?

Submit your proposed topics or questions to CES.Local.Employment.Dynamics@census.gov by Monday, May 13, 2024 and we will use your submissions in the training sessions.

Further details and an agenda will be posted on our event’s page. Information on previous workshops can also be found at <https://lehd.ces.census.gov/learning/>.
